Those with long memories will recall that at the OC in Dubai I was appointed as the "record-keeper" for the tour. It was this appointment that inspired the first tour website and also the post-tour review DVD of BDT 2007: Dog Wars.

In the build-up to BDT 2008, once he had got beyond his "Turkey/Lisbon" shambles, tour organiser Ash had several ideas up his sleeve to spice up the tour, including the screening at the OC of a pre-tour DVD featuring the Captains.

As we sat down one winter's evening to write the script, the pair of us realised there was potential for some creative fun, with the two captains for the tour being Buzz and Marshy – the Andy Farrell and Lawrence Dallaglio doppelgangers!

One Wigan Warriors and one Wasps rugby jersey later, O Fortuna blaring out in the background and we had one of the all-time great moments of any BDT build-up!

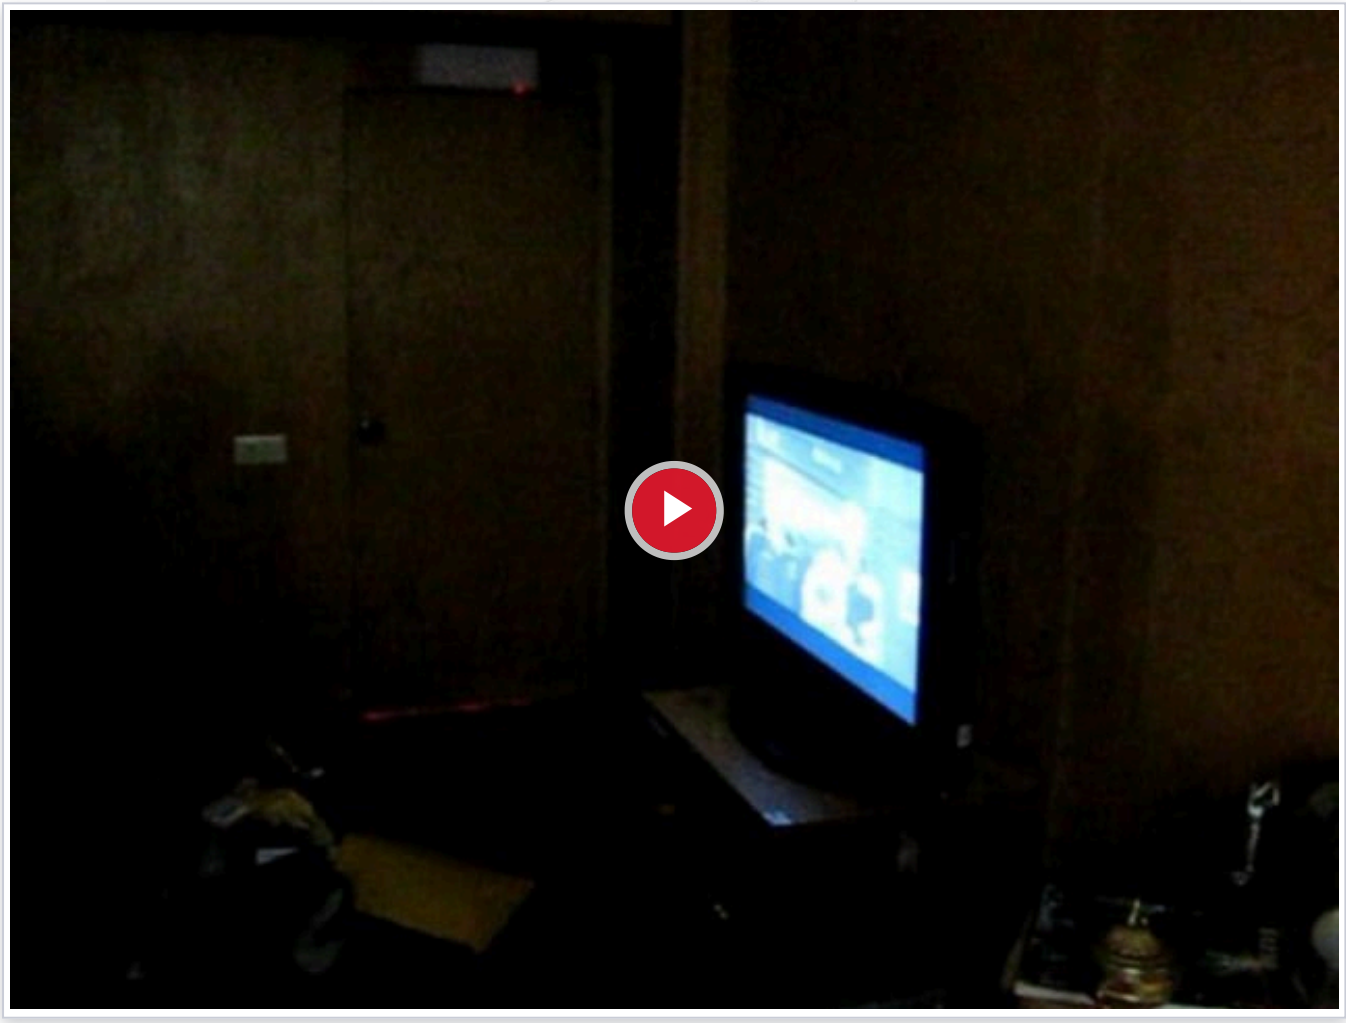

However, it did take quite a few takes before we got the actual version – check out the never seen before footage above!

For the record, a Buzz-inspired Wigan won that tour but when they recreated their rivalry on BDT 2017, Marshy's Wasps took revenge.

Back to the OC, it's safe to say the final version of Dallaglio v Farrell went down well!!
